For the Fresh Air Fund.

Last week, Wednesday evening, Mr. Lander's barn was the scene of a novel and highly successful entertainment given by a party of girls ranging from nine to fifteen years of age, for the benefit of the Fresh Air Fund. First came a series of very effective living pictures that were much applauded. The laughable farce, "A Family Fix," was then given, with the following cast :

"Mr. Jones," an old gentleman, Margaret L. Wallace; "Mrs. Jones," Helen D. Wessells; "Emma," the daughter, Louise S. Robbins; "Alfred," Emma's husband, Lucy F. Lander; "Henry," the butler, Ida C. Thallon; Miss May Lander, prompter.

The several parts were admirably rendered, some passages being given with a grace and naturalness that could scarcely be excelled.

That the audience was in an appreciative mood was shown by a desire expressed to see the performance repeated, which was graciously complied with. The entertainment closed with a series of well composed tableaux. In the intervals between the several parts Miss Edith Thallon, the youngest member of the troupe, favored the audience with songs and recitations that brought down the—barn. Sent.
